There are a plethora of genealogical websites with new ones being added every day. Do these websites confuse you? Are you sure you can trust these new websites? Internationally known author, editor, presenter, and researcher, Michael Leclerc, Chief Genealogist at Mocavo.com can help answer these and your other online family history resource questions at St. Louis Genealogical Society's (StLGS) annual Summer Speaker Series, Exploring Online Resources for Genealogists. Join us on Saturday, 28 July 2012 at Orlando Gardens in Webster Groves, Missouri, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Mr. Leclerc will discuss topics for uncovering online ancestry resources including:

- Evaluating Genealogy Websites
- Sharing Your Family History Online
- Learning Opportunities on the Internet
- Other Resources for Genealogy

Early registration for StLGS members before 14 July is $45; $55 for non-members. After 14 July, the cost is $55/$65. Registration includes all four talks plus lunch.

The St. Louis Genealogical Society promotes family history research by providing educational and research opportunities, offering community services in related fields, and collecting, preserving, and publishing genealogical and historical records. Community support of this event will continue to allow the society to bring you quality research opportunities and programs.

For more information or to register for the St. Louis Genealogical Society Summer Speaker Series, call 314-647-8547 or visit the website <www.stlgs.org>.
